Dear Mr. Jordan:

Municipal Supply
Services

Attached are this agency's responses, including all relevant appendices, to the request from the New York State Civil Service Commission ("Commission") for additional supporting documentation and explanations regarding the five-year plan to reduce provisional appointments in New York City. The initial plan was submitted to the Commission by the New York City Department of Citywide Administrative Services ("DCAS") on March 28, 2008, and then discussed at the Commission meeting on June 10, 2008. As requested, we have referenced the relevant Commission request to which each of our responses corresponds.

Real Estate Services

We wish to thank the Commission for its thoughtful analysis of our plan, and we look forward to continuing to work with you throughout this process.

Response to State Inquiry

General Comment from DCAS:

All data referred to in the responses below are as of May 31, 2008 (original data in the plan were as of December 31, 2007). Appendix A: Provisional Reduction Plan Impact provides updated data referenced in Table 1.3.0 of the plan. Please note that the data reported in the plan and in this document are not static and are constantly changing due to variations in civil service employment patterns.

Overall Compliance Measures

1. A timeline that includes:

- A date on which the plan will commence, and a date for completion of the plan;

As stipulated in Civil Service Law, Section 65(5), the plan will commence upon approval by the New York State Civil Service Commission. The plan will be completed five years after the date of approval.

Although the official Plan has yet to be approved and implemented, DCAS already has begun to aggressively address the status of provisionals in City service. DCAS has met with agencies under its jurisdiction to devise individualized strategies for dealing with provisional reduction issues and to provide agency-specific reports about provisionals serving. We also have begun implementing innovative testing methods to help escalate the frequency of examinations, as well as utilizing technology such as a web-based system for accepting exam applications and credit card payments for exam fees, and a system for conducting online education and experience exams. Additionally, DCAS has begun preparing exam schedules, initiating reclassification studies, and hiring new staff, including the Provisional Reduction Analysis Team (PRAT), dedicated to the single mission of tracking provisional movement.

- Target dates on which each activity specified in the plan is expected to begin and end;

Please refer to Appendix B: Implementation Timeline for the timeline of each proposed action in the plan. Refer to Appendix C: Calendar of Reclassification Actions for a title specific timeline of reclassification actions. Refer to Appendix D: Proposed Examination Timetable for Years 2 - 5 and Projected Provisionals Resolved for the new examination timeline.

It should be noted that Appendix C: Calendar of Reclassification Actions indicates that reclassification actions will be addressed throughout the five years of the Plan. This marks a departure from DCAS's initial proposal. After feedback from the State Civil Service Commission, we reevaluated our reclassification timeline and believe that the steps outlined in this document represent the most pragmatic approach.

- A listing of performance targets that will be met at the completion of each six-month interval during the course of the plan.

At every six-month interval, DCAS will report back to the State Civil Service Commission on the following performance targets: the number of exams administered, including data on item banking efforts, the number of broadbanding/consolidation actions, and the number of reclassification and classification actions submitted for State approval. DCAS will also report on the number of provisionals serving.

Listed below is the anticipated number of provisionals each action is expected to address. It is difficult to predict the exact month in which the results of each action will be reflected in the provisional count. For example, provisionals resolved from the administration of an exam will not be realized until after the list is established. This timetable varies greatly depending on a number of factors including the lengthy appeals process afforded candidates. Similarly, broadbanding/consolidations of competitive titles will not result in immediate reclassification of incumbents and reduction in step-up provisionals until union representation of the new title has been approved by the NYC Board of Collective Bargaining. Each proposed non-competitive and exempt reclassification is scheduled to be sent for State review on the date indicated, but no provisional employees can be reclassified until DCAS receives the State's approval and union representation issues are resolved.

2. The total number of titles in which provisional employees are currently serving.

As of May 31, 2008 there are 870 titles with provisionals serving, including temporary titles.

3. The number of provisional employees serving in each title.

Please refer to Appendix E: Titles with Action Details and Number of Provisionals Serving.

4. The action, or series of actions, planned to resolve the provisional appointments in each title.

Please refer to Appendix E: Titles with Action Details and Number of Provisionals Serving.

5. Explain the payroll certification process and how it is used to ensure compliance by DCAS employers with the provisions of the Civil Service Law, Personnel Rules and Regulations of New York, and any other applicable guidelines or policies, including the procedures that will be followed to:

Both the respective agency and DCAS are required to certify the payroll. DCAS verifies all agency payrolls and the Office of Payroll Administration only releases checks upon receiving DCAS's authorization. However, given that applicable standards of federal and state law and equity principles generally require that employees, whether provisional or otherwise, be paid for the time that they have worked in good faith, the payroll certification process (which originated in the 19th Century) is not a suitable modern-day vehicle for enforcement of limitations upon the appointment and retention of provisional employees.

- Monitor the appointments in the DCAS employers covered under the plan;

To ensure and monitor agencies' compliance with the provisional reduction plan, DCAS is instituting a new group, the Provisional Reduction Analysis Team (PRAT). PRAT will track provisional movement and help maintain appropriate hiring practices. PRAT will monitor agency actions once an eligible list is established to ensure compliance. PRAT will also audit agency actions and respond where appropriate.

- Disapprove provisional appointments made in the face of mandatory eligible lists that are established or in existence; and

In order to ensure compliance with the Long Beach decision, a new procedure will be implemented that will require agency heads to certify via a standard form that no list exists when a candidate is hired or promoted provisionally. The certification is to be made to the Office of Management and Budget and PRAT.

- Penalize employers that willfully disregard DCAS's enforcement actions.

If a provisional is appointed in the face of a list after the certification process has been implemented, the expectation is that agency personnel actions will be halted for a period of time while each proposed action is reviewed to ensure compliance. Additionally, the agency will be placed on a watch list and further personnel actions will be carefully monitored by PRAT.

Examinations and Eligible Lists

1. Are there any provisionals currently serving in the face of mandatory eligible lists?

Yes.

If there are provisionals serving in the face of a mandatory eligible list:

- Set forth the titles in which provisionals are serving in the face of a mandatory eligible list, and the number of provisionals serving in each title;

Please refer to Appendix F: Provisionals Serving in Titles with Viable Eligible Lists.

- Set forth the steps to be taken to terminate the provisional appointments, and the date by which such provisional appointments will be terminated.

DCAS will continue to issue certifications to all agencies with employees serving in titles with an active civil service list. We will be creating a watch list of all agencies that appoint or retain provisionals in the face of these civil service lists. DCAS will continue to work very closely with the agencies to monitor and audit Citywide personnel actions, and to responsibly address outstanding provisional appointments.

2. A list of any examinations completed¹, but from which an eligible list has not yet been established, including:

- The date on which the examination was held;

Please refer to Appendix G: Completed Examinations with No Eligible Lists Established.

- Number of provisional employees serving in each title for which such eligible list will be used;

Please refer to Appendix G: Completed Examinations with No Eligible Lists Established.

- Date by which each eligible list will be established; and

Once an eligible list is completed, the length of time to establish it is typically no more than 60 days.

- Date by which all provisional appointments will be resolved as a result of permanent appointments made from the eligible list.

In administering this Plan, provisional appointments will be resolved as quickly as possible without disrupting governmental services and/or operations.

3. A copy of the examination schedule developed for implementation of the plan, which includes:

- The specific titles for which each examination will be used to make permanent, competitive class appointments;

Please refer to Appendix D: Proposed Examination Timetable for Years 2 - 5 and Projected Provisionals Resolved.

- The month and year during which each examination is expected to be held. Examination dates for any examinations expected to be held more than once during the time frame of the plan should also be included; and

Please refer to Appendix D: Proposed Examination Timetable for Years 2 - 5 and Projected Provisionals Resolved.

- The number of provisional employees each examination is expected to resolve.

Please refer to Appendix D: Proposed Examination Timetable for Years 2 - 5 and Projected Provisionals Resolved.

The exact number of provisionals that each examination is expected to resolve cannot be determined. The effectiveness of each examination in reducing provisionals has several key determining factors, including but not limited to: the number of provisionals serving in the title at the time the exam is administered and the number of applicants who file for, pass and are found qualified and eligible for the exam.

¹ DCAS defines a completed examination as an examination in which all of the component parts have been completed, but the list has not yet been established. This would include administering all parts of the test (written, practical, physical, as applicable), conducting Test Validation Board meetings and finalizing determinations, rating of the qualifying education and experience, rating of the test(s), determining eligibility and seniority (for promotion exams), and compiling the list.

4. How are the examinations held for positions which exist in more than one agency?

The City of New York only holds competitive examinations for titles, not for specific positions. Open competitive exams are held for entry level titles where positions exist in more than one agency. Open competitive exams result in a Citywide list which can be certified to any City agency where the title is used. Promotion exams are also given on a Citywide basis for titles which are used by more than one agency. Unlike open competitive exams, however, promotion exams result in agency-specific promotion lists. In other words, candidates from each agency are placed on a discrete list for that particular agency.

- For positions which exist in more than one agency or department, are the examinations limited to an agency or department, or are they held on a citywide basis?

For positions which exist in more than one agency or department, examinations are not limited to an agency or department. For promotion exams, however, the eligible lists that result from an examination are agency-specific. Pursuant to Rule 5.3.6 of the Personnel Rules and Regulations of the City of New York, DCAS may establish Citywide promotion lists which shall not be certified to an agency until after the promotion eligible list for that agency has been exhausted.

- Are the eligible lists resulting from the examinations used to fill positions on a citywide basis, or are the eligible lists limited to just one agency or department?

The one eligible list established after the administration of an open competitive examination is used Citywide by any agency that uses the title. For promotion exams, however, the eligible lists that result from an examination are agency-specific.

5. A detailed description of “list publication,” including:

The steps taken to publish lists:

List publication will occur immediately after the Commissioner of DCAS has approved the release of the list of passers for any exam. DCAS will publish lists for a period of 60 days to allow DCAS to disseminate the published list to agencies that have provisionals serving in the title for which the list has been published. In addition, DCAS will publish list information on the DCAS Interactive Voice Response (IVR) system and candidates can contact the City’s “3-1-1 Call Center” or the IVR, 24 hours a day, seven days a week to obtain civil service list information such as their exam score and some list status information.

- The time needed to publish the eligible lists, and resolve any issues arising from their publication;

DCAS proposes publishing lists as soon as possible (i.e. after a list of exam passers has been internally reviewed and approved) to meet the City’s hiring demands. Agencies will then be provided with 60 days after list publication to strategize the replacement of their provisionals before the list is certified to agencies to replace their provisionals. This 60 day period will provide agencies a head start in securing funding from the City’s Office of Management and Budget (OMB) to fill vacancies once the list has been certified. In addition, during this period candidates will have the opportunity to appeal their exam score or disqualification before the list is officially established and certified.

- An explanation of how this procedure will speed up the process establishing lists and making permanent appointments; and Agencies currently have a period of 30 days to canvass civil service lists after the lists have been certified. This practice limits the amount of time an agency has to plan and strategize the hiring of its own provisional employees from the list as permanent employees. However, publishing lists before they are certified will enable DCAS and agencies to analyze how a list might be used to make permanent appointments in a manner that is least disruptive to agency and City operations. For example, where the top scorers on an examination are already serving provisionally at a particular agency, the published list would allow DCAS to consider certifying the established list to that agency first to afford them the opportunity to consider their own provisional employees for permanent employment.

- The number of additional provisional appointments, if any, that will be resolved as a result of this procedure.

The benefit of the proposed list publication process is not in the increase of provisionals resolved but in the efficiency and speed of resolving those provisional appointments. The process will affect every provisional serving in titles for which a list is established. In administering this Plan, provisional appointments will be resolved as quickly as possible without disrupting governmental services and/or operations.

Position Classification

- 1. An allocation list specifically identifying all of the titles to be reclassified (including title changes) and the titles into which these positions will be consolidated or broadbanded.

Please refer to Appendix H: Allocation of Title Reclassification and Number of Provisionals Resolved - Consolidated and Broadbanded Titles.

- 2. The number of provisional employees serving in each title, and the number of provisional appointments, by title, that will be resolved without further action.

Please refer to Appendix H: Allocation of Title Reclassification and Number of Provisionals Resolved - Consolidated and Broadbanded Titles, consolidation is expected to resolve 428 provisional appointments and broadbanding is expected to resolve 3 provisional appointments.

- 3. The subsequent actions that will be taken to resolve any remaining provisional appointments in the new titles.

To resolve the remaining provisional appointments, exams will be administered for the new reclassified titles.

- 4. A schedule for conducting and completing reviews of the positions to be reclassified, including:

- A timetable for reviewing each of the classifications, by title:

We have determined that the process to reclassify a title remaining in the competitive class will take a minimum of 19 weeks due to the consultation with agencies that use the titles, the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), the Office of Labor Relations (OLR) and unions. The minimum timetable for each consolidation and broadbanding of existing competitive class titles into one competitive class title may be divided into periods as follows:

Study and review existing job descriptions, duties, qualification requirements and exam history. Gather information from exams and agencies that use the titles.	3 weeks
--	---------

Determine which related title(s) should be consolidated when knowledge, skills and abilities are not different enough to require separate promotion exams.	3 weeks
Prepare job description, duties, qualification requirements and proposed salary ranges, which generally remain unchanged from existing competitive salaries.	2 weeks
Prepare classification resolution setting forth the new consolidated title, explaining how incumbents will be reclassified (table of equivalencies and terms and conditions of reclassification) and a cover memo explaining and justifying the proposed reclassification.	2 weeks
Share and discuss proposal with oversight agencies, OLR and OMB.	2 weeks
Share and discuss with affected agencies, if any.	2 weeks
If unions are impacted, share and discuss proposals with affected union(s).	3 weeks
Incorporate union and agency input and send final proposal, classification resolution and class specification(s) to DCAS Commissioner for approval on the Commissioner's Calendar.	2 weeks
Total process:	19 weeks

- Dates indicating when the study of positions will begin and end;

Please refer to Appendix C: Calendar for Reclassification Actions. The calendar indicates the month and year of the plan in which groupings of titles will be addressed.

It should be noted that Appendix C: Calendar of Reclassification Actions indicates that reclassification actions will be addressed throughout the five years of the Plan. This marks a departure from DCAS's initial proposal. After feedback from the State Civil Service Commission, we reevaluated our reclassification timeline and believe that the steps outlined in this document represent the most pragmatic approach.

- Dates by which initial classification determinations will be made;

Initial classification determinations will be made six weeks after each project begins.

- Time allotted to accommodate employee appeals of reclassification determinations;

The Personnel Rules and Regulations of the City of New York do not provide for an administrative appeal process with respect to decision of DCAS to reclassify a position or series of positions within the competitive class. The terms and conditions provided by DCAS for such reclassifications preserve the civil service status, rights and benefits of the reclassified employees. However, employees always have the right to appeal any allocation by the employing agency to a title the employee believes is not appropriate to the duties to be performed, either to DCAS pursuant to Rule VIII of the Personnel Rules and Regulations of the City of New York or under contractual out-of-title grievance procedures. We note that DCAS has always asked for and welcomed input and suggestions from affected unions on behalf of their members. We have allotted three weeks for union review and discussion in our minimum timeframe. This period, in reality, may be shorter or longer, depending on the issues raised.

- Dates to finalize classification determinations appealed by employees; and

- Dates by which further action resolving the provisional appointments to each of the newly reclassified positions will be completed.

Once the reclassification action for a group of competitive titles is approved by the DCAS Commissioner, DCAS updates the City’s systems by adding the new titles. For union represented titles, DCAS must wait for the NYC Office of Collective Bargaining to certify the appropriate union(s) to represent the new titles and assignment levels. This process requires submission of a petition to OCB by OLR or the unions to represent the new titles. Once OCB registers the petition it must be posted for 30 days to allow intervenors to petition. If there are no intervenors, the OCB Board of Certification must meet and approve the certification before it is complete. Then DCAS can begin to move employees as described below. If there are intervenors, this process takes longer and often requires additional written submissions and OCB hearings.

Once the union representation issues are resolved, the titles will be added to the City’s systems. This takes about two weeks. Next, permanent incumbents will be moved on payroll to the applicable/corresponding new title and level in the competitive class and provisional incumbents will be moved on payroll to the corresponding consolidated/broadbanded competitive title or to another appropriate title. Permanent employees in one competitive title included in a broadbanded/consolidated competitive title will become permanent employees of the new competitive title.

5. Any contingency plans to schedule additional competitive examinations for titles proposed for reclassification that are successfully challenged by employees on appeal or in the courts.

The Plan that the City of New York submitted is aggressive and comprehensive. We are optimistic about the merits of each of our reclassification proposals and believe them to be appropriate actions to effectively administer a 21st century workforce. If any reclassification actions are successfully challenged, we will consider administering an exam for the title. However, the more we are compelled to give exams for titles where we do not believe an exam is practicable, the more strain will be placed on our already tight resources and the more risk we run of increasing the Citywide provisional count.

Jurisdictional Classification

1. Copies of the following Classification and Compensation Schedules:

- Schedule E – Exempt Class;
- Schedule N – Non-competitive Class;
- Schedule L – Labor Class; and
- Schedule C – Competitive Class.

Refer to Appendix I: Competitive Class Titles
 Refer to Appendix J: Non-Competitive Class Titles
 Refer to Appendix K: Exempt Class Titles
 Refer to Appendix L: Labor Class Titles
 Refer to Appendix M: State Authorization Table (no TA titles)

2. A list of all titles, including “temporary” titles, for which other than competitive classification will be requested, and the number of provisional employees serving in each title.

Please refer to Appendix E: Titles with Action Details and Number of Provisionals Serving, temporary title codes are listed as “TTC.”

3. A schedule of dates for completion of the major steps in the jurisdictional classification process for the titles identified, including;

We have determined that the process to reclassify a title or related group of titles will generally take a minimum of 29 weeks. DCAS can work on approximately eight to twelve reclassifications at the same time. The minimum time periods for the jurisdictional classification process are as follows:

Study and review existing job descriptions, duties, qualification requirements and exam history. Gather information from exams and agencies that use the titles.	3 weeks
Determine which related title(s) should be reclassified.	1 week
Prepare job description, duties, qualification requirements, Rule, Part and proposed salary (managerial, OJ, or union represented).	2 weeks
Prepare justification statement giving reasons for proposed reclassification.	2 weeks
Share and discuss proposal with Office of Labor Relations and Office of Management and Budget.	2 weeks
Share and discuss proposal with affected agencies, if any.	2 weeks
If unions are impacted, share and discuss with affected union(s).	3 weeks
Schedule and hold public hearings. This includes publishing an announcement in the City Record, advising parties expressing interest (e.g. unions), and conducting hearings with a stenographer.	5 weeks
Get transcript and review comments.	4 weeks
Summarize City position and hearing comments for DCAS Commissioner and recommend approval/disapproval.	1 week
Submit to Mayor for approval/disapproval.	2 weeks
Forward DCAS recommendation and supporting record to State Civil Service Commission for approval.	2 weeks
Total process:	29 weeks

For a title specific timeline please refer to Appendix C: Calendar of Reclassification Actions.

It should be noted that Appendix C: Calendar of Reclassification Actions indicates that reclassification actions will be addressed throughout the five years of the Plan. This marks a departure from DCAS’s initial proposal. After feedback from the State Civil Service Commission, we reevaluated our reclassification timeline and believe that the steps outlined in this document represent the most pragmatic approach.

Target dates for the holding of public hearings;

Public hearings will be held approximately 15 weeks after the jurisdictional classification process has begun for a title.

- Dates by which resolutions will be adopted:

The resolutions will be approved by DCAS and submitted to the State approximately 29 weeks after the process has begun for a reclassification of a title or group of titles. They will be adopted and implemented after DCAS receives approval from the State Civil Service Commission and such approval is filed with the Secretary of State.

- Dates by which resolutions will be submitted to the Mayor of the City of New York for approval or disapproval;

The resolutions will be submitted to the Mayor for approval or disapproval approximately 25 weeks after the process has begun for the title.

- The time period needed for Mayoral approval or disapproval; and

It will take approximately two weeks for the Mayor to approve or disapprove the resolution.

- Date of anticipated submission of resolutions to the State Civil Service Commission

The resolutions will be submitted to the State Civil Service Commission approximately 29 weeks after the process has begun for the title.

4. Any contingency plans using competitive means to resolve provisional appointments to positions in the titles to be requested, should a resolution be disapproved by either the Mayor of the City of New York or by the State Civil Service Commission.

The Plan that the City of New York submitted is aggressive and comprehensive. We are optimistic about the merits of each of our reclassification proposals and believe them to be appropriate actions to effectively administer a 21st century workforce. If any reclassification actions are ultimately disapproved, we will consider administering an exam for the title. However, the more we are compelled to give exams for titles where we do not believe an exam is practicable, the more strain will be placed on our already tight resources and the more risk we run of increasing the Citywide provisional count.

5. An explanation of the difference between:

- The rights of employees appointed to New York City competitive class employees, compared to New York City non-competitive class employees;

An employee appointed from an eligible list to a competitive class title earns permanence after having successfully completed the required probationary period for that title. In having earned this permanence, the incumbent is entitled to various rights and benefits pursuant to Civil Service Law and as a result of collective bargaining.

Disciplinary Rights

Statutory: Section 75 disciplinary rights are provided to permanently-appointed competitive class employees upon successful completion of the applicable probationary period. Such rights are not provided to employees appointed to non-competitive positions until they have served for five years in a non-competitive title (or titles). (Confidential/Policy Influencing non-competitive class employees do not attain these statutory disciplinary rights.)

Contractual: The City of New York has, for titles classified as Career and Salary Plan titles, negotiated contractual disciplinary rights for permanently-appointed competitive class employees, and has negotiated contractual disciplinary rights for non-confidential/non-policy influencing non-competitive class employees. These rights provide such employees with the four-step grievance process, culminating in binding arbitration. These rights typically take effect upon the completion of any applicable probationary period, although there are some exceptions as to when these contractual rights commence. However, most non-competitive class employees in titles not classified as Career and Salary Plan titles do not have these contractual due process disciplinary rights.

Promotion eligibility

Statutory: Permanently-appointed competitive class employees are entitled, as of right, to participate in promotion examinations for higher titles in a title series, provided that they meet all other minimum requirements (such as a minimum period of permanent service in the eligible title(s)). Pursuant to Section 52, subsections (12) and (14), the city of New York may provide promotional opportunities to non-competitive class and labor class employees, where the service in the non-competitive or labor position is deemed appropriate preparation for the competitive class title to which promotion is sought.

Layoff Rights

Statutory: The provisions of the Civil Service Law relating to layoffs of non-competitive class employees in the service of the civil divisions and municipalities of the State (that is, not the State service itself) do not address any layoff rights for non-competitive employees (except with respect to non-competitive class employee who is “a veteran of the armed forces of the United States who served therein in the time of war as defined in section eighty-five” of the Civil Service Law).

Contractual: The City of New York has, for titles classified as Career and Salary Plan titles, negotiated contractual layoff rights for non-competitive class employees. The provisions of the Citywide Agreement covering Career and Salary Plan employees state that, in the event of layoffs, non-competitive class employees shall be placed on “recall lists” for use at the agency from which the layoffs were made, and “shall be called for reinstatement in the order of their original date of appointment...”

Time and leave benefits under Collective Bargaining Agreements

Contractual: There are instances in the Citywide Agreement, to which reference is made, above, when permanently-appointed competitive class employees are provided benefits not available to non-competitive class employees:

Discretionary Leaves of Absence without Pay
Eligibility for the discretionary advancement of sick leave
Eligibility for discretionary advancement of annual leave

As DCAS Commissioner Hirst stated to this Commission, DCAS is fully prepared, as evidenced by our willingness on prior occasions, to work with the Mayor’s Office of Labor Relations and the City’s unions to consider ways in which the City could negotiate provisions to modify these regulations to lessen or possibly eliminate these differences as was previously done with respect to disciplinary rights.

Disability Rights

Statutory: The City provides the protections afforded by Civil Service Law Sections 71, 72 and 73 to employees permanently appointed to competitive class positions. DCAS is again prepared to consider ways to lessen or possibly eliminate those differences.

Preservation of Rights for permanent incumbents in competitive titles identified for reclassification into the non-competitive class

In order to preserve the rights of permanent competitive incumbents of titles proposed for reclassification to the non-competitive class, DCAS will, after State approval of non-competitive classification for the titles, earmark the consolidated competitive titles “for permanent incumbents only” before reclassifying incumbent provisional employees to the new non-competitive class titles. These steps will allow permanent competitive employees to remain in their consolidated competitive class positions with continued competitive civil service rights and benefits and provides assignment levels for continued advancement opportunities for incumbent permanent employees.

- The rights of New York City competitive class employees, compared to New York State competitive class employees; and

In general, New York City competitive class employees have statutory rights that are identical or virtually identical to the rights of their New York State counterparts. There are isolated exceptions, however, such as §60(3), on certification of lists for State positions, which does not apply to the City, or the definition of continuous service in connection with layoffs from the State service in §80(3).

With respect to contractual rights of such employees, DCAS is, of course, willing to supply sample collective bargaining agreements to the State, upon request. However, we do not have sufficient information regarding any New York State collective bargaining agreements to make a meaningful comparison.

- The rights of New York City non-competitive class employees, compared to New York State non-competitive class employees.

Again, New York City non-competitive class employees generally have statutory rights that are identical or virtually identical to the rights of their New York State counterparts. However, there are some material distinctions. For example, §80-a concerning layoffs of non-competitive State employees does not apply to New York City non-competitive employees. Instead, as described above, employees often have contractual recall list rights.

With respect to contractual rights more generally, DCAS is, again, willing to supply sample collective bargaining agreements to the State, upon request. However, we do not have sufficient information regarding any New York State collective bargaining agreements to make a meaningful comparison.

Transfer of the TA and TBTA

1. Whether there are additional MTA entities under DCAS jurisdiction apart from the TA and TBTA to be covered by the plan. If there are other MTA employees under DCAS’s jurisdiction, the following information is needed:

There are no additional MTA entities under DCAS’s jurisdiction apart from the TA and TBTA.

- The number of any provisional employees working for the MTA covered under this plan which are not included in the original provisional count supplied in the plan, and

There are no employees covered under the Plan who are not accounted for in the original provisional count.

- A list of the titles in which these provisionals are serving (if any), and the number of provisionals serving in each title.

As indicated above, there are no employees covered under the Plan who are not accounted for in the original provisional count.

2. A copy of the proposed legislations transferring responsibility for administering employments in the TA and TBTA away from DCAS, with an anticipated effective date.

DCAS and the MTA have been in discussion about the transfer of Civil Service administration for the TA and TBTA. Our most recent conversation was on July 31, 2008. The MTA has conducted an internal analysis of the TA and TBTA to evaluate the appropriate model for Civil Service administration. The MTA also conducted a briefing on August 7, 2008 for the MTA board to hear the plan for divestiture. As a result, we are advised that the MTA will now forward to the Law Department an official request for assistance with drafting legislation to divest the TA and TBTA from the City, inclusive of its proposed approach to Civil Service administration. DCAS's expectation is that, during the first week in September, we will be talking to the MTA further and continuing to work with the MTA and the Law Department on the legislation.

3. If not specifically provided in the legislations, a specific date for the commencement and completion of the transfer of the TA and TBTA.

The specific dates will be provided in the legislation.

4. The current status of legislation needed to transfer responsibility for merit system administration of the TA and TBTA from DCAS to another entity.

Although we have commenced work on drafting the legislation, meaningful completion of it will ideally require consensus between DCAS and the MTA, in the course of our ongoing discussions..

5. A contingency plan for resolution of the provisional appointments by DCAS in the TA, the TBTA, and any other entities of the MTA covered by the plan, should the legislation proposed fail to be enacted.

If the legislation fails to be enacted, we will request that the MTA more significantly subsidize DCAS's Civil Service efforts so that we have sufficient resources to continue administering Civil Service for TA and TBTA titles without sacrificing the City's own efforts to reduce provisionals. Currently the MTA provides DCAS with $900,000 annually to support Civil Service. According to our broad estimate, the expense to DCAS for providing testing and Civil Service administration to the TA and TBTA is closer to 4.5 million dollars annually.
