Promotion examination open to all qualified employees of the New York State Department of Health.

Minimum Qualifications: On or before December 13, 2025, you must be a qualified employee of the New York State Department of Health and have had three months of permanent competitive, non-competitive NY HELPS*, or 55-b/55-c service as shown below. If you have received a permanent appointment to a qualifying title listed and served provisionally in that title immediately preceding your permanent appointment, such provisional service may be counted towards meeting the time in title required for this examination.

For Exam No. 31-259020: Business Systems Analyst 2 (Health) or Business Systems Analyst 2.

For Exam No. 31-260020: Business Systems Analyst 3 (Health) or Business Systems Analyst 3.

Only the title or titles listed are qualifying.

If you were permanently appointed to a qualifying title on or before September 13, 2025, and have served continuously in this title since that date, you are eligible to file for this examination.

If you were permanently appointed via the New York Hiring for Emergency Limited Placement Statewide (NY HELPS) program to a qualifying title in the non-competitive class on or before September 13, 2025, and have served continuously in this title since that date, you may apply for this examination.*

If you were permanently appointed to a qualifying title and had provisional service in the same title immediately preceding the permanent appointment, such provisional service may be counted towards meeting the time in title required to apply for this examination. Your provisional appointment must have been on or before September 13, 2025, to qualify for this examination.*

Qualifying Experience For Appointment From The Eligible List: After one year of service described in the Minimum Qualifications, successful candidates will be qualified for appointment from the eligible list.

Employees appointed to a non-competitive position via the NY HELPS program to a qualifying title in the non-competitive class will have their names restricted from appointment from the eligible list until their position is covered-in to the competitive class by action of the New York State Civil Service Commission or otherwise obtain permanent competitive status in the position.

If you have received a permanent appointment to a qualifying title listed and served provisionally in that title immediately preceding your permanent appointment, such provisional service may be counted towards meeting the time in title required for appointment from the eligible list.

The Positions: These positions exist in the New York State Department of Health and are located in Albany.

Duties: As a Business Systems Analyst 3 (Health) you would, with significant independence, coordinate system planning efforts; identify and document scope of changes or enhancements to automated health information systems required by procedural changes or by changes to federal, state, or local laws and statutes or judicial determinations; establish timetables for completion of projects; explain business/functional requirements for a specific program area to applications programmers and contractors; review and approve system design documentation and specifications; develop and oversee testing of system changes or enhancements to ensure user and program requirements are met; coordinate the implementation of automated health information system changes and enhancements; update management on status of system changes and enhancements; develop and carry out test plans against established criteria for the users, technical systems staff or developers of large automated systems; troubleshoot by reviewing and analyzing data findings, such as corrupt data, program flow errors, front-end and back-end errors, and other systems deficiencies in support of large-scale automated systems; evaluate commercial products available for incorporation into systems; and supervise subordinate Business Systems Analysts and other staff involved in the above activities.

As a Business Systems Analyst 4 (Health) you would, in addition to the duties of a Business Systems Analyst 3 (Health), perform more complex support to New York State and federal public health insurance programs, including analyzing the business needs of the programs to reach goals, identify problems and propose solutions. You would function as a liaison between program and service providers, take an active role in the technical aspects of design and problem resolution, and supervise subordinate Business Systems Analysts and other staff involved in the above activities.

Subject of Examination: To be considered for appointment to this title, you must pass the multiple-choice test . The multiple-choice test evaluates your knowledge, skills, and/or abilities in the following areas:	For Examination Nos.
	31-259020	31-260020
1. Working and interacting with others - These questions test for knowledge of how to effectively approach work and maintain professional relationships with others in the workplace. Each question presents a situation and a number of possible approaches for handling it. Question topics may include working with supervisors and coworkers, interacting with members of the public, handling conflict, and managing workplace demands and priorities. The questions are not specific to any job title or place of work.	X	X
2. Administrative supervision - These questions test for knowledge of the principles and practices involved in directing the activities of a large subordinate staff, including subordinate supervisors. Questions relate to the personal interactions between an upper level supervisor and their subordinate supervisors in the accomplishment of objectives. These questions cover such areas as assigning work to and coordinating the activities of several units, establishing and guiding staff development programs, evaluating the performance of subordinate supervisors, and maintaining relationships with other organizational sections.	X	X
3. Understanding and applying administrative principles - These questions test for knowledge of how to effectively manage and direct an organization or an organizational segment. These questions cover such areas as developing objectives, formulating policies, making decisions, forecasting and planning, developing personnel, organizing and coordinating work, communicating information, providing leadership, and delegating authority and responsibility.	X	X
4. Preparing reports and official documents - These questions test for the ability to prepare reports and other official documents for use within and among governmental agencies, in legal or regulatory settings, or for dissemination to the public. Some questions test for a knowledge of grammar, usage, punctuation, and sentence structure. Others test for the ability to present information clearly and accurately, to use the proper tone, and to organize paragraphs logically and comprehensibly.	X	X

Subject of Examination (continued):	For Examination Nos.
	31-259020	31-260020
5. Evaluating conclusions based on factual information - These questions test your ability to evaluate and draw conclusions from factual information presented. Each question consists of a set of factual statements and a conclusion. You will be asked to determine whether the conclusion can be proven to be true by the facts, proven to be false by the facts, or if the facts are inadequate to prove the conclusion.	X
6. Analyzing and evaluating information - These questions test for the ability to analyze, interpret, and draw reasonable conclusions from information presented in text, data, images or symbols. This may involve identifying a significant problem or issue; focusing on relevant data and text; identifying trends, relationships, and significant features; assessing relevant alternatives; suggesting or evaluating possible conclusions; and applying logical principles to information provided. You should bring with you a hand-held battery- or solar-powered calculator for use on this test. You will not be permitted to use the calculator function of your cell phone .		X
