Promotion examination open to all qualified employees of the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets.

Minimum Qualifications: On or before May 9, 2026, you must be a qualified employee of the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets and have had three months of permanent competitive, non-competitive NY HELPS*, or 55-b/55-c service as an Animal Health Inspector 1. If you have received a permanent appointment to a qualifying title listed and served provisionally in that title immediately preceding your permanent appointment, such provisional service may be counted towards meeting the time in title required for this examination.

Only the title or titles listed are qualifying.

If you were permanently appointed to a qualifying title on or before February 9, 2026, and have served continuously in this title since that date, you are eligible to file for this examination.

If you were permanently appointed via the New York Hiring for Emergency Limited Placement Statewide (NY HELPS) program to a qualifying title in the non-competitive class on or before February 9, 2026, and have served continuously in this title since that date, you may apply for this examination.*

If you were permanently appointed to a qualifying title and had provisional service in the same title immediately preceding the permanent appointment, such provisional service may be counted towards meeting the time in title required to apply for this examination. Your provisional appointment must have been on or before February 9, 2026, to qualify for this examination.*

Qualifying Experience For Appointment From The Eligible List: After one year of service described in the Minimum Qualifications, successful candidates will be qualified for appointment from the eligible list.

Employees appointed via the NY HELPS program to a qualifying title in the non-competitive class will have their names restricted from appointment from the eligible list until their position is covered-in to the competitive class by action of the New York State Civil Service Commission or otherwise obtain permanent competitive status in the position.

If you have received a permanent appointment to a qualifying title listed and served provisionally in that title immediately preceding your permanent appointment, such provisional service may be counted towards meeting the one year time in title required for appointment from the eligible list.

The Positions: These positions exist in the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets and are located statewide.

Duties: As an Animal Health Inspector 2, you would supervise Animal Health Inspector 1's assigned to your region. You would be responsible for overseeing subordinates' inspection activities related to shelters and rescues and dog control officers, livestock markets and dealers, pet dealers and swine feeders. You would coordinate the disease control activities of the Animal Health Inspector 1s with veterinarians in your assigned region. You would also provide orientation and training for subordinates, as well as establish priorities for projects and assignments, develop performance programs, and evaluate staff performance.

Subject of Examination: To be considered for appointment to this title, you must pass the multiple-choice test. The multiple-choice test evaluates your knowledge, skills, and/or abilities in the following areas:

1. Animal Disease Control Programs - These questions test for knowledge of Department regulatory programs including laws, rules, regulations and directives relating to animal health, dog control and pet dealer programs. Topics also may include the cause of specific diseases, recognition of symptoms, and measures used for prevention, eradication, and control as they relate to regulatory and disease control programs.
2. Inspection and investigative techniques - These questions test a candidate's ability to select the proper course of action in situations which might occur during inspections and investigations. These questions may cover areas such as investigative interviewing, presentation of evidence, attitude factors, integrity and sound judgment in dealing with complaints, irregularities and violations.
3. Preparing written material - These questions test for the ability to present information clearly and accurately, and to organize paragraphs logically and comprehensibly. For some questions, you will be given information in two or three sentences followed by four restatements of the information. You must then choose the best version. For other questions, you will be given paragraphs with their sentences out of order. You must then choose, from four suggestions, the best order for the sentences.
4. Supervision - These questions test for knowledge of the principles and practices employed in planning, organizing, and controlling the activities of a work unit toward predetermined objectives. The concepts covered, usually in a situational question format, include such topics as assigning and reviewing work; evaluating performance; maintaining work standards; motivating and developing subordinates; implementing procedural change; increasing efficiency; and dealing with problems of absenteeism, morale, and discipline.
